Buffalo/Erie County Route and Fare Structure Review and Strategic Assessment

TMD recently finalized the Erie County Route and Fare Structure Review and Strategic Assessment for the Niagara Frontier Transportation Authority (NFTA) in Buffalo, New York. This project included a detailed review of existing NFTA bus and rail services and fare structures, as well as a community assessment of the market for transit. A set of recommendations to enhance mobility and grow system ridership while improving service efficiency and effectiveness was put forward. In order to help NFTA prioritize significant future investment in transit corridors, the study also included an updated NFTA Strategic Assessment. The project included a significant community participation process that reviewed findings, sought input, and developed a recommended plan. The final plan included short-, mid-, and long-term service and capital investment recommendations.
